TURPIE'S INVECTIVE

Indiana Senator Furnishes Amusement for the Galleries.

SHERMAN AND LODGE ATTACKED

Cuban Resolution Provides the Opportunity—Efforts of Other Members To Suppress Their Merriment Causes Them Considerable Trouble.

Washington, April 9.—The joint resolution introduced by Senator Call proposing intervention in the war now being prosecuted in Cuba will probably be taken up for action this afternoon. Senator Turpie's speech on this resolution afforded much amusement for his brother senators and a large audience in the galleries. He clothed the most stinging sarcasm in picturesque language, and the efforts of the other members to suppress their merriment caused many of them considerable difficulty. The object of Senator Turpie's invective were not so much Gen. Weyler and the Spanish government as the chairman of the committee on foreign relations—Mr. Sherman, rep., Ohio—and the junior senator from Massachusetts, Mr. Lodge. He ascribed to Mr. Sherman helpless inertia, delay, and irrational obstruction; and spoke of his taking refuge in the crypt of the conference committee, very glad to be rid of his former action. Mr. Lodge was portrayed by him as belonging to the jingo class of extremists, and as being singularly gifted with the power to clothe an interesting and exciting subject with all the dullness of time worn commonplaces. He drew an amusing sketch of the controversy between Mr. Lodge and the Spanish minister and said that he had expected it to end in a duel in which the champion of senatorial privileges would go into the lists, fully armed, his visor down and his lance at rest. But, instead of that, the junior senator from Massachusetts had retired to the room of the committee on foreign relations and regaled himself on "puffs, mere puffs." Mr. Turpie closed his sarcastic remarks on Mr. Lodge by the quotation that "pygmies are pygmies still, though perched on Alps."

The Behring Sea Treaty.

The executive session of the senate yesterday afternoon was brief and, besides a few confirmations, was devoted to the reception of a report from Chairman Sherman, of the committee on foreign relations, on the treaty now before the senate relating to the appointment of a commission for the assessment of damages growing out of the seizure of the Canadian vessels for violations of the regulations relating to the Behring sea fur and seal fisheries. Mr. Sherman reported a few amendments which were ordered printed. The treaty will be taken up in a few days. Objection was made to its consideration on account of the illness of Senator Morgan, although Mr. Sherman stated that the state department was very anxious to have the matter disposed of. The amendments reported are only verbal and will not change the text of the treaty in any material manner. It is believed that the treaty will be disposed of next week.

House of Representatives.

This afternoon the house will vote on the bill repealing the compulsory pilotage system in force in nine southern states. The conference report on the agricultural appropriation bill was presented and agreed to. The bill reported to the house from the committee on coinage, weights and measures providing for the adoption by the government of the metric system as the standard had been recommitted to that committee.

THE ATLANTIC MINE ACCIDENT.

First That Has Occurred Since Electricity Was Introduced for Hauling.

Phillipsburg, Pa., April 9.—Yesterday's fatal accident in the Clearfield region in Atlantic mine No. 1 is the first that has occurred since the introduction of electricity for hauling. A train in charge of motorman Ernest Pie collided with a train in charge of John Shoff, and Pie was so seriously injured that he died within an hour. The conductor of Pie's train, Nicholas John, had his leg crushed.

Privileges for Foreign Yachts.

Washington, April 9.—Mr. Payne of New York has introduced in the house a bill providing that yachts belonging to a regularly organized yacht club of any foreign nation, which shall extend like privileges to the yachts of the United States, shall have the privilege of entering or leaving any port of the United States without entering or clearing at the custom houses or paying tonnage tax.

No Women as Lay Delegates.

New York, April 9.—The Methodist Episcopal conference, by a vote of 99 to 89, refused to amend the constitution so that women could be elected as lay delegates to the general conference.

Guilty of Simple Assault.

Providence, April 9.—The jury in the case of Osceola R. Cook, charged with assaulting David F. Lingane, manager of the Telegram, returned a verdict of guilty of simple assault.

FOR HIGH TREASON.

Members of the Reform Committee Held for Trial at Pretoria.

Pretoria, April 9.—All of the members of the reform committee, who were implicated in the recent disturbances, were arraigned yesterday in the Landdrost's court and committed on charges of high treason for the next criminal session of the high court. The Landdrost reserved decision as to the admission of the prisoners to bail.

COTTON MULE SPINNERS.

Reports of Delegates Occupy Most of the Time of Their Convention.

Boston, April 9.—The most of the time of the convention of cotton mule spinners of America was taken up in considering reports from the district delegates. These reports showed that ring spinning frames were falling into disfavor and that mill managers were gradually going back to the use of mules for spinning cotton. The Tremont and Suffolk mills of Lowell, Mass., and the Pawtucket, R. I., mills were reported by the delegates from those sections as among the places where ring spinning frames were being displaced by mules. This news was received with much favor by the delegates, because it means that more men spinners and fewer women and young children will be employed at spinning. The New Hampshire delegate reported that the wages in the mills in Dover were about 8 per cent. less than in other districts, and he asked the assistance of the organization to secure an advance over present rates. In Utica, N. Y., according to the report of the delegate from that district, wages had been slightly advanced through the splendid organization of mule spinners. Fall River was reported as being comparatively quiet in trade matters, while the condition of trade in Lowell was regarded as fair.

MORE DESPERATE EVERY DAY.

A Fearful Scourge Adds to the Horror of the Armenian Situation.

Philadelphia, April 9.—Prof. William H. Pancoast, president of the Red Cross society of Pennsylvania, has received a cablegram from Miss Clara Barton which indicates that the situation in Armenian is growing more desperate each day. Miss Barton's message reads: "Relief work firmly settled. No opposition, no direction from authorities: a fearful scourge at Marash and Zeitoun. Have called eight physicians to Heirbut. Dysentery, smallpox and typhus fever epidemic. Do you wish to send medical supplies? Please do." Prof. Pancoast stated that the Red Cross society sent Miss Barton $500 in cash last week, which she has not yet received. A meeting of the local society will be called at an early date to take action upon the appeal sent by Miss Barton.

THE BEHRING SEA FLEET.

Will Leave San Francisco April 13, Reaching Destination May 1.

Washington, April 9.—The United States patrol fleet in Behring sea will leave for the scene of operations from San Francisco about the 13th inst., and will rendezvous at Port Townsend, Wash., leaving that port April 20. It is expected the fleet will arrive in Behring sea May 1. Capt. C. L. Hooper will be in charge. The fleet will be comprised of the best revenue cutters, viz.: Grant, Wolcott, Corwin, Bear, Rush and Perry. While the fleet is in the north Pacific ocean its headquarters will be at Sitka, Alaska, and when it reaches Behring sea the headquarters will be Dutch Harbor, Ounalaska. Capt. Hooper will remain ashore during most of the season, directing the operations of the fleet from shore headquarters.

THE OLYMPIC GAMES.

Americans Gratified by the Generous Conduct of the Greeks Toward Victors.

Athens, April 9.—Nearly all the members of the royal family and the king of Servia were present at the Olympic games, which were continued to-day. No Americans competed yesterday. They are much gratified by the generous attitude of the Greeks toward the victors, and the utmost good feeling prevails. The bicycle race at a distance of 100 kilometres yesterday was won by Flamant, the Frenchman, with the Greek contestant second. Time of the winner, three hours and eight minutes.

For Murdering His Wife.

New Haven, Conn., April 9.—The grand jury yesterday afternoon found a true bill against Thomas F. Kippie for murder in the first degree. January 31 last Kippie murdered his wife, Mary, at their home on Silver street. The woman was stabbed several times by her husband and died almost instantly.

The Mount Vernon Investigation.

Mount Vernon, N. Y., April 9.—The investigation of alleged irregularities in the accounts of other city officials besides Elias C. Pease, the defaulting city clerk, which was authorized by resolution of the board of aldermen, will be held on April 16.

Work on the Panama Canal.

Colon, Colombia, April 9.—Work on the Panama canal is being pushed. A contract has been given for 100,000 metres of submarine mining on the Pacific end of the canal.

THE POLITICAL FIELD

Opinion of Col. Swords as to the Republican Nominee.

WILL BE HARRISON OR ALLISON

Says McKinley Will Lead on First Ballot, But After That His Forces Will Disintegrate—No Chance for Quay, Morton or Bradley.

St. Louis, April 8.—Col. H. L. Swords, sergeant-at-arms of the republican national convention, when asked his opinion as to who would be the standard-bearer of the republican party for the presidency, replied that the choice would undoubtedly fall upon either Senator Allison or ex-President Harrison. He intimated that McKinley would lead on the first ballot, but that after that his forces would begin to disintegrate. He is of the opinion that Senator Allison has the best chance. He said, in answer to a question, that he did not think Bradley, Morton or Quay had any possible chance of securing the nomination. He has engaged accommodations for 200 persons at the Lindell and made a new contract with the Planter's hotel for forty-five rooms. He has also contracted for twelve rooms at Hurst's hotel and accommodations for fifty more Iowa delegates at another.

POLITICS IN KENTUCKY.

Lexington, Ky., April 9.—Following is a carefully compiled list of delegates from counties that have held republican conventions: For McKinley, 28 counties, outside of Jefferson, 382; for McKinley in Jefferson, 123; total, 505. For Bradley, 33 counties, outside of Jefferson, 403; for Bradley in Jefferson, 72; total, 475. Uninstructed, 10 counties, 151. Contested, two counties, 47.

Quay Endorsed for President.

Danville, Pa., April 9.—The republican conference of the Seventh congressional district met here yesterday and elected two delegates and alternates to the national convention. The resolutions endorsed Senator Quay for president.

McKinley Delegate Elected.

Williamsport, Pa., April 9.—The republican county convention met here yesterday and elected a delegate to the national convention. The convention adopted resolutions endorsing McKinley, the protective tariff, the state administration and the Monroe doctrine; opposing free silver coinage and Cleveland's administration.

THE CUBAN REBELLION.

Insurgents Fire a Town—The Belmont Swindle—Patriot Camps Captured.

Havana, April 9.—The town of La Salud, in the Havana province, was entered by insurgents, who sacked several stores and set fire to a number of houses. Three insurgents also made their way into Marianao, in the same province, at night, and before their presence was known to the troops stationed at the forts robbed the store of Manuel Valdes of a number of pairs of shoes and a quantity of provisions and succeeded in making their escape. Gen. Barges reports the capture of a rebel camp at Jarahueca. In the fight which occurred before the rebels were compelled to abandon their camp five of them were killed. The capture of a camp at Ti Arriba, in the province of Santiago de Cuba, is also reported by Gen. Barges. In this engagement the insurgents lost fifteen killed and two of the Spanish force were wounded. Two arrests have been made by the police of Guanabacoa, near Havana, in connection with the recent swindle of the New York banking house of August Belmont & Co. One of the prisoners is named Pelegrin and the other is an ex-employe of the Hidalgo company. In the possession of the latter were found several blanks and papers which prove his connection with the swindle.

J. W. S. HILL'S DEATH.

Analysis Shows He Was Poisoned—No Clue to the Murderer.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 9.—The analysis of the contents of the stomach of J. W. S. Hill, who died suddenly at Steelton, near here, March 27, shows that he was poisoned from drinking tea in which there was arsenic. The district attorney will begin an investigation at once. There is no clue to the poisoner. Within the past year Mr. Hill had several hogs and three horses die from the effect of poison.

Died at the Age of 101.

Westchester, Pa., April 9.—At the age of 101 years, Thomas W. Hall, the oldest resident of Chester county, died at the home of his son-in-law, in Cain township yesterday. He was born in Philadelphia on March 4, 1795, and lived until yesterday without ever having suffered a day's illness. His death resulted from no particular cause but old age.

The Bicycle Bill Will Soon Become a Law

Albany, April 9.—The Armstrong bicycle bill, compelling railroads to carry bikes free as baggage, if a release for damages is given, now in the governor's hands will, it is believed, be approved by the executive.

THE STRIKE DANGER

Railway Men May Go Out in Pennsylvania and New England.

WILL BE NO TROUBLE IN NEW YORK

Geographical Position of That City Would Aid in Its Suppression—Archbishop Corrigan Said To Have Interested Himself—The A. R. U. Story.

Philadelphia, April 9.—The street car troubles of Philadelphia and New York are closely linked. From what can be learned here to-day there will be no strike at present, but the agitation will be transferred to Philadelpnia, Pittsburg and, perhaps, Boston and other New England cities. Edwin Byrne, president of the local branch of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employes, went to New York yesterday and saw President Mahon. The immediate object of Byrne's visit to Mahon was to have him modify the terms of the ultimatum which the Amalgamated association is to submit to the Union Traction company. One clause of this ultimatum requires of the traction company to recognize the association. The local leaders of the association know full well that the traction company will fight this demand to the death. Therefore, Mr. Byrne went to New York to see President Mahon and have him erase this demand in the ultimatum. This president Mahon consented to do. Despite the admisssion of the local leaders of the Amalgamated association that the A. R. U. had become affiliated with the street railway men, Mr. Mahon authorized Byrne to deny that such a deal had been accomplished or would be considered. The local leaders of the great railway brotherhoods also denied to-day that they had any intention of affiliating with the A. R. U.

No Strike in New York.

From what could be gathered here to-day among the Amalgamated association men it is unlikely that there will be a strike in New York. Mahon is credited with being too sharp to call a strike in New York, where the peculiar geographical facilities of the city aid in the suppression of any disorders which would follow a strike, and, in consequence it is said that if the Metropolitan Traction company show a firm front, Mahon will recede from his position and transfer the scene of action to Philadelphia. It was further talked of at the association's local headquarters to-day that the good offices of Archbishop Corrigan had been secured in behalf of the New York men and that the archbishop was doing his best to bring about an amicable solution of the trouble. Mahon told Byrne that the reported national brotherhood of street railway employes in New York is a myth, and has no conception except in the brain of the officials of the Metropolitan Traction company. A meeting of the local branch of the Amalgamated association will be held this afternoon.

NEW ENGLAND POSTMASTERS.

Seventy Members Attend the Meeting and Dinner in Boston.

Boston, April 9.—Yesterday's meeting and dinner of the Postmasters' Association of New England at the Crawford house was the best that association has had for some time. There were about seventy members present, and C. H. Dayton, postmaster of New York; Col. W. J. Coveney of Boston; Hon. A. F. Sullivan, and Major A. H. Frost of Brooklyn were the invited guests. After the dinner, at which Henry H. Johnson of Haverhill, the president of the association, presided, the guests and some of the members made short addresses, mostly of a social nature.

FAVORS THE GOLD STANDARD.

Philadelphia Importers' Exchange Declares for the Yellow Metal.

Philadelphia, April 9.—At the meeting of the board of directors of the Grocers' and Importers' exchange, held yesterday, the members placed themselves emphatically in favor of a gold standard currency. The action was taken in answer to communications from the chamber of commer of the state of New York and the Boston Merchants' association, urging the exchange to actively co-operate with them in favor of the maintenance of the existing gold standard.

SEVEN KILLED.

Result of an Explosion of Giant Powder in a Utah Quarry.

Ogden, April 9.—A terrible explosion of giant powder occurred at 5:50 o'clock last evening at a quarry two miles from this city, in which seven men lost their lives and three were badly injured.

The Italians in Abyssinia.

Rome, April 9.—Late advices received by the government from Massowah imply that although Col. Stevani's forces have retired from Agordat, Nassata will possibly still be held by a diminished garrison under Major Hidalgo.

Fast Day in New Hampshire.

Concord, N. H., April 9.—To-day is fast day in New Hampshire, and reports from all over the state show that it is being generally observed.

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT.

Wagon Shaft Penetrates the Breast of a Woman Bicyclist Fully Six Inches.

Philadelphia, April 9.—A peculiarly horrible accident occurred yesterday afternoon on Girard avenue near Fifteenth street. While Mrs. Edward F. Morse, aged 30 years, wife of the president of the Morse Elevator company, was riding a bicycle towards her home at 1601 Girard avenue, she was run down and killed by a runaway horse attached to a huckster's wagon. Mrs. Morse did not see the runaway animal approaching her on account of a street car which intercepted her view. She turned in towards the curb and as she did so the runaway horse was upon her. The shaft of the wagon struck her squarely in the breast and entered her body fully six inches. Mrs. Morse was hurriedly picked up and taken to the hospital, but she died upon reaching there. While the crowd was still collected around the scene, Mr. Morse, who was on his way home to lunch, attracted by the commotion, inquired of a policeman the cause of the people gathering. The policeman recognized Mr. Morse and gave an evasive answer to his question. Something seemed to warn Morse of the trouble that had come upon him. When he was told that a lady had been run down and hurt by a horse, he asked to see the machine that she was riding. When the bicycle was shown him, Mr. Morse recognized it as that of his wife's, and in a frenzy of anxiety he hurried to the hospital only to find her dead body.

HAVANA'S SANITARY CONDITION

New York's Health Officer Takes Precautions Against Infection.

New York, April 9.—Dr. Doty, the health officer of the port of New York, who arrived yesterday from Havana, says that the sanitary condition of that city is in extremely bad shape. Although at present the number of cases of yellow fever in Havana is small, the season has hardly begun. There is very little doubt that the number of cases will increase, owing to the political conditions, which necessitate the presence of a large body of fresh troops from Spain. These are unacclimated, and a large percentage of them will probably succumb to the disease. While in Havana Dr. Doty was in consultation with Dr. Burgess, the United States marine hospital inspector, who is resident in that city. He visited the various hospitals and saw a few cases of yellow fever. He made arrangements with Dr. Burgess to enforce certain regulations, similar to those in force last season, to prevent the introduction of that disease into the port of New York. On May 1 next all passengers from Havana who fail to present satisfactory certificates of acclimatization from Dr. Burgess will be required to stay in quarantine until the expiration of the usual incubation period of yellow fever, five days. That is, five days from leaving Havana.

INDIANA OUT OF DRYDOCK.

Strong Winds, Causing a Recession of the Water, Delayed the Work.

Washington, April 9.—The telegram received at the navy department from Beaufort, S. C., reporting that it was impossible to take the battleship Indiana out of the government drydock at Port Royal on account of the prevalence of strong westerly winds which had driven the water from the bay, was later contradicted by a dispatch announcing that the war vessel was safely floated. The depth of water had been in the neighborhood of twenty-four feet while fully a foot more was required to allow the Indiana to get away. These winds have been continuous for about four weeks. Their subsidence with the increasing spring tide last night permitted the accomplishment of the intention to take the vessel from the dock. A report has been made to the department by Constructor Taylor who has been at Port Royal. He says the Indiana's bottom was found to be in excellent condition. She has been thoroughly cleaned.

TWELVE-OARED BOAT RACE.

Flagship New York Sailors Defeat Those of the Raleigh.

Fort Monroe, Va., April 9.—The 12-oared cutters of the flagship New York and the cruiser Raleigh had a spirited race in Hampton roads yesterday. The course was a mile and a half to a stake boat and return. In coming down the homestretch the siren whistles of the squadron gave them a terrific blast. New York won by about two lengths. Over $5,000 changed hands on the result.

The Black Plague in China.

Washington, April 9.—Reports have been received at the state department from consular officers in China and Japan concerning the existence of the black plague in Hong Kong. According to the information contained, the disease has been kept within bounds at Hong Kong, although the arrival of a ship at Yokohama with a case on board is reported.

Knitting Mill Shuts Down.

Hartford, April 9.—The mill of the New Britain Knitting company of New Britain shut down to-day for repairs. Twenty-five crocheters employed by the company struck yesterday because they were dissatisfied with the prices set on some new work.

TO LEAGUE UMPIRES

President Young Issues a Circular Letter of Instructions.

EVERY RULE MUST BE ENFORCED

Decisions Must Be Uniform Upon Every Point of Play—The Laws in Relation to Fines and Removals—Courtesy and Firmness Are Enjoined.

Washington, April 9.—President Young of the National Baseball league has issued the following circular of instructions to all the league umpires: "As the gentlemen selected to fill the positions of league umpires for 1896 are all men of large experience and mostly old league umpires it seems almost unnecessary for me to issue special instructions. I desire, however, to all your special attention to the changes in the rules in relation to fining and removal of players, etc., and I shall insist that every umpire enforce, not only that, but every playing rule, both in letter and spirit. If any rule is faulty it can only be demonstrated by its strict enforcement. It is useless for one umpire to enforce the rules unless each and every one does exactly the same. If you commence from the very first game to do your whole duty, you will have little trouble in doing so during the entire season, but if you do not, your trouble will have just commenced and your usefulness as an umpire practically at an end. I have the utmost confidence in every one of the umpires and I believe that every decision rendered will be governed by his best honest judgment. In the discharge of your duty on the field, you all well know that you have my unqualified support, and you are also entitled to, and I believe you will receive, the support of every league official.

Courtesy and Firmness Enjoined.

"The umpires will provide themselves with a blue flannel suit and cap, and always present a neat appearence on the field. Be courteous and polite to all players whenever you meet them and I would advise that you avoid familiarity with any. With many it would be harmless, while with others it would be taken advantage of and destroy your usefulness to a very great extent. You will consider all assignments as confidential, as circumstances might make a change necessary at very short notice. After a game go directly to your hotel, as you may find a telegram awaiting you. You cannot be too careful in watching for telegrams, and by so doing, you can save us both considerable trouble. It is also very important that you should advise me at once by letter or wire where you are stopping in each city, and if possible I would like a list of all the hotels where you stop during the season and then make no change without previously advising me. If you have any doubt about the proper construction of any rule let me know and I will always take pleasure in giving you full information. Your decisions must be uniform upon every point of play. Don't be too hasty in rendering a decision, but I cannot too strongly impress upon your minds the importance of being prompt in doing so after you have formed an intelligent judgment. Even a very slight delay gives the audience the impression that you are in doubt. Be perfectly fearless in doing just exactly what you believe to be right."

WILL NOT BE POSTPONED.

Yale-University of Wisconsin Race Will Be Rowed Despite the Accident.

New Haven, Conn., April 9.—Capt. Nelson O. Howard of the Yale freshmen crew says that the reports that the Yale freshmen-University of Wisconsin boat race must be postponed because of the fatal accident to the crack Wisconsin oarsman, Day, are false. He says that he has received assurances that on no condition will the westerners postpone the race and that it will come off as scheduled at lake Saltonstall on June 18.

For Deserting Wife and Child.

Bridgeport, Conn., April 9.—Detective Cronan went to New Haven yesterday and arrested Guy Cottrell of this city for deserting his wife and child. Cottrell is a brakeman on the Consolidated road. Several months ago he left his wife and child in sore distress. The baby has been dead two days and the mother has no money to provide it with proper burial.

True Bill for Murder Against Rogers.

Middletown, Conn., April 9.—The grand jury has reported a true bill against Edward Rogers for the murder of Timothy L. Parmelee, February 26. Rogers never flinched when the indictment was read. He will be arraigned and the case continued until September.

Libel the Friesland.

New [illegible] April 9.—Busk & Jevons, agents [illegible] steamship Bellarden, which [illegible]ly damaged by the Friesland in collison, say that they intend to libel the latter vessel. It is stated that $40,000 will be required to pay for repairs to the Bellarden.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know that Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labelling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. SAMUEL PITCHER. That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government-protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children will be kept well, and that you will have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

THE BROKEN HOUSE KEY.

The young and pretty bride felt worried and out of sorts. Only a short eight weeks ago she had married her dear Gus and had followed him to his home in W——, and already he had begun to neglect her, to go out of an evening, and to leave her alone in the big house. He had tried to convince her that he could not altogether neglect his former friends and companions, and that she ought not to object to his meeting them on two evenings every week, and to pass an agreeable hour in their company over a friendly game of whist; but she simply did not comprehend how he could enjoy himself without her, how he could even think of going anywhere without taking her along.

"Oh! the dreadful evenings I have to spend," she complained, with tears in her eyes. "I am obliged to sit here all alone because I have as yet had no chance to form any acquaintances here. Naturally, I get homesick. Often I feel like leaving everything and taking the train home to my parents."

"Would it not be better, darling, if you went to bed instead and tried to sleep?"

"That is just where the trouble is," she replied, still in tears; "I am afraid. Our servant always sleeps way up in the attic. She would not even hear were anything to happen to me."

"Why, you foolish child, what is there to be afraid of; what is going to happen?"

"Are not the papers every day full of burglaries and robberies?" she persisted. "Think of the many strangers that flock to a well-known health resort like this. Nothing is impossible under such circumstances!"

The husband looked thoughtfully at his sweet bride.

"No, dear, I do not want you to frighten yourself into illness. I promise you herewith, of my own free will (the poor fellow could not help heaving a sigh as he said this) to return promptly at 11 o'clock whenever I go to meet my friends. It is impossible for me to withdraw myself from their society altogether, for they would ridicule and make fun of me, and call me 'henpecked.' Burglars rarely put in their apeparance before the hour of 11, the streets being full of life and traffic. Good-by, darling, and please do not feel lonesome."

Annie sighed and submitted resignedly to her fate. She read awhile; then she took up her embroidery, a present for her mother; she played a game of solitaire, and finally she paced restlessly up and down the room. At home there had been a large family circle; hence it was very trying to her to be left so much to herself in her new surroundings.

At ten o'clock even the familiar noises in the kitchen ceased, for the servant had gone upstairs to her attic, and the poor woman felt the old feeling of distress and fright creep over her. The sitting-room was located to the rear of the house, and there was a hallway between it and the front rooms. She therefore could not hear the usual street noises. A death-like silence reigned in the room. Tired and yet excited she threw herself on the lounge. She sadly reflected why beer houses and card parties had been called into existence. By and by her thoughts became more and more confused, and she fell into a sound slumber.

It was 11:05 o'clock when Gus arrived breathlessly and post haste at his house door and tried to fit his key into the lock.

Poor fellow! Had evil spirits conspired to get him into trouble? Click—the key broke in two and the bit stuck fast in the keyhole, handle and barrel alone remained in his hands.

He knocked; he called; he knocked again, and louder, for unfortunately there was no house bell—all in vain. "I hardly think my wife has retired as early as this," he reflected, "but of course she is in the sitting-room, and more likely she cannot hear me." Once more he knocked—this time very loud—he called until his voice was hoarse. No reply!

To fill his cup of misery to the brim it commenced to rain, and he was without an umbrella.

"Perhaps Annie has gone to bed after all," he thought, shivering and dripping wet. "Shall I go to a hotel? No! What would the people think? The only place that I know of that may still be open is the railway depot, for there is a train arriving at midnight."

He went down the street in the pouring rain, and at last found himself in the waiting-room of the station.

"A glass of beer, sir?" asked the enterprising waiter. Gus shook himself. He felt chilly. "Punch," he said, "and make it hot!" He drank one glass and then another, and still another, to while away the time. He was the only person there. In due time the last tram had arrived, and he could stay no longer. They were about to close up.

In sheer desperation he looked at his watch.

It was one o'clock when he emerged into the street, and it had ceased to rain. The full moon seemed to grin and wink at him maliciously through the clouds, as though she meant to say: "See, old man, it serves you right! Why must you go out to play cards and leave your wife at home in loneliness?"

In spite of the repeated potations he still felt chilly. "There is no help for it but a good run," he said to himself, starting on a lively trot through the city; first down one street, then up another; through the suburbs until he reached the open country, and back again without stop or rest for fear of catching cold.

The town clock struck the hour of four. "It is still too early to get into the house," he said, "the front door is never unlocked before six o'clock! Will I or be unable to unlock the door, anyway? A piece of my key sticks in the lock, the women are imprisoned and cannot get out. But now I can stand it no longer. I must have something hot to drink and sit down somewhere. There is a train at four o'clock," and forthwith he once more wended his way to the railroad depot.

A snug corner and a cup of hot coffee somewhat restored him. But he was very tired, and pretty soon he was as sound asleep in his corner as his wife had been the night before on her lounge.

And how did his wife fare? She awoke in the middle of the night with a start, almost frightened out of her wits by a horrid dream, in which her husband had appeared before her, wounded, bleeding, and torn by huge bloodhounds. Pretty soon, however, she comprehended the situation. Her face bathed in tears, she paced restlessly up and down the room wringing her hands. "Oh, the wretch! To stay out all night! Just to think of it! Such a man has the effrontery to talk to me of love. Not content to act like a villain, he even had to make fun of me last night by pretending he would henceforth be home at 11 o'clock. Who would ever have thought him so base? They close the beer house after midnight, hence he cannot pretend to be playing cards there all night. Heaven only knows where he is spending the night, while I—! But he'll find that I am not his dupe. I shall leave him at once. There is a train at seven o'clock in the morning, which I am going to take and go home to my parents"—and so forth and so on. More wringing of her hands, more tears, more self-pity and accusations, until in her eyes her husband appeared a veritable Bluebeard.

At five o'clock she called the serving maid, whom she sent to the garret for a valise, and commenced to pack. The maid said nothing, but she was surprised that her master had not risen and did not help his wife. However, she made the coffee and then went after a cab.

The front door was wide open and a locksmith busy with the big lock when Annie appeared in the hall. The landlady ran to meet her, exclaiming in a flurry of excitement: "Did you hear about it, madam? A thief was here last night and made an attempt to enter the house. Some one must have frightened him off. He left a broken key stuck fast in the lock, and I was unable to unlock the door. I had to call from the window until I aroused a neighbor, who ran for a locksmith. Now I am going to have a patent lock put on and spoil their little game. But you look very pale, my dear madam. I am sorry to have frightened you with my burglar story. Are you going to take a ride so early in the morning?"

Annie nodded and passed on. She was glad that the woman had not seen her valise, which her maid had already put into the cab.

"What a narrow escape I had last night. How near I came being robbed—perhaps worse!" She was now thoroughly angry. "So much more reason for leaving the fellow, no matter the consequences! For the present I shall remain with my parents." Thus musing she arrived at the depot.

Before purchasing her ticket she intended to leave her valise in the waiting-room. Annie entered and made for an empty table, when suddenly—she dropped the valise and almost screamed aloud—wasn't that her husband, "her" Gus sitting there in a corner and snoring loud enough to make everybody in the room smile at his nasal powers? He looked tired and worn and his garments appeared damp. How did he get here and why was he in such a dilapidated condition? She stood for a moment undecided and unable to take her eyes off his drawn, worn out features.

Suddenly the sleeper opened his eyes. Whatever the outcome she must avoid a scene in a public room. Anything but that! The waiters had more than once looked wonderingly at the man who had drunk three cups of coffee and then fallen sound asleep hours ago, Annie tried to appear quite unconcerned, and took a seat beside her husband. Somehow her anger had suddenly vanished.

"Oh, darling, what brought me—I mean rather what brought you—here?" he asked, astonished at the unexpected appearance of his wife, dressed for a journey.

"Never mind, dear. Don't bother about that now," she whispered. "Come, let us ride home, where I will explain all."

Gus acquiesced in silence. His feet felt heavy and hardly able to carry his weight. He was sick. All he could do was to drag himself to a cab.

And then explanations were in order. Annie had no reason to doubt her husband's narration of his adventures during the night, and what the landlady had told her about the broken key tended to corroborate and exonerate him. But he could not make out from her explanations what had taken her to the railway station. He was, however, too ill to ask many questions.

Arrived at home she simply told the astonished servants that "they had changed their mind and would not go away because her husband, who had preceded her to the depot, had been suddenly taken sick," and sent her after a physician.

Gus was very sick; for two weeks he could not leave his bed. A complicated and aggravated attack of influenza was the result of his experience during that ill-fated night.

Annie never left his bedside, and now it was her great care and tireless devoted nursing that opened his eyes as to the depth and unselfishness of her great love for him.

At last Gus got well, and though he would now and then go to have a social game of whist, his wife never again doubted him, even if he staved out later than "11."—From the German.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

THE POSTAL CONGRESS.

Its Meetings Next Year Will Be of International Interest.

The congress of the Universal Postal union, which is held once in five years, is to meet in Washington in 1897. Although the United States, through Postmaster-General Blair, took the initiative in suggesting the union in 1862, the congress never has met on the western hemisphere, and the event is of great interest in postal circles.

Before the postal union was formed, all mail passing from one nation to another was opened in each intermediate country and redistributed before being forwarded to its destination. To-day the mail made up in New York city for Turkey goes in a closed pouch, which is not opened until its ultimate destination is reached, though it passes through five countries.

It is secure from interference; it goes by the quickest means of transit; and it follows the person addressed all over the world, if necessary. All of this service is furnished for a uniform charge of five cents for each half-ounce letter.

Formerly, each nation had its own charges for carrying letters, and the total charge to the sender was usually the sum of the intermediate charges. That is, the charge was proportioned to the distance covered and the work done. But under the rules of the postal union a letter from New York to India costs the sender no more than one from New York to London. The actual cost of sending the letter the longer distance is paid by the nation in which the letter originates. At the last congress, held in Vienna, it was proposed that this additional cost be borne by the nations through whose hands the letter passes; in other words, that nations make no charge for letters in transit. This proposition was opposed by some delegates, and action on it was deferred until the coming congress.

Another important question which the congress will discuss is the suggestion for an international postage stamp of the value of five cents, to be recognized as a prepayment of postage from any country in the postal union to any other country in the union.

This suggestion was made at the Vienna congress by the delegates from the United States, at the instance of Postmaster-General Wanamaker. It would be a great convenience to have such a stamp, especially to correspondents wishing to prepay a reply from another country; but changing currency values are an obstacle to its adoption.

The congress will probably give some attention to the question of cheaper postage. It is not likely that the five-cent rates will be changed, but eventually the limit of weight on foreign letters may be raised to one ounce, as at present on domestic letters in this country. The admission to the mails of small parcels, other than trade samples of no value, is another subject which will be discussed.

In most reforms in the postal service the United States has led, but in one or two particulars it is behind other nations. For example, we offer no compensation for lost registered matter. The system, it is true, affords a means of tracing a letter, and so diminishes the chance that it will be stolen, but it also advertises its valuable character. With the exception of some of the South American republics, the United States is the only nation in the postal union that does not insure registered mail matter for the sender.

Taken as a whole, however, the postal service of the United States is the finest in the world. The railway mail car, the "sea post office," the use of electric cars for carrying mail matter in cities, and many other devices for quickening the transportation of mails, are the fruit of American ideas. The delegates from the 38 countries in the postal union who will attend the congress of 1897 will no doubt have as much to learn from our methods as they will be able to impart to us.—Youth's Companion.

BIKE DEFORMITIES.

Some of the Effects of Too Close Devotion to the Wheel.

The Human Form Divine Distorted and Rendered Unsightly by Excessive Indulgence in a Healthful Exercise.

It is agreed by medical men that the bicycle may produce effects on the rider of decided benefit to health, always providing, of course, the the machine is used with a due appreciation of the injuries which the wheel is also capable of inflicting.

The subject of this sketch, however, is not so much the rider who rides the wheel properly and obtains benefit therefrom, as the one who rides for riding's sake and with no regard whatever for his physical welfare. In other words, the bicycle fiend, who rides with the apparent purpose of making himself ridiculous.

Of all the deformities produced by biking the strained, nervous expression known as the bicycle face is most pronounced. It is so common nowadays that a description of it here would be a waste of valuable space.

Another common deformity is the bicycle back, which is produced by the cramped, crouching and stoop-shouldered position so much affected by scorchers. This position cramps the chest and its contents, thus limiting the breathing capacity of the lungs.

The bicycle neck is also becoming more prominent every day. There are two common varieties of this deformity. The first is produced when the rider bends forward and lowers his head as if he were trying to touch the tire of the forward wheel with his nose. In this position the rider's back and neck describe a half circle. The other form of neck is produced when the rider sits astride his machine in much the same position, with the exception that he holds his head back as far as possible—in fact, so far that his head and neck form a right angle with the upper part of his back.

Bicycle arms may be seen on the boulevard any pleasant day. The fiend spins along with his back and neck as described above and his elbows projecting outward as far as possible. He is usually so accustomed to this abnormal position that he finds it next to impossible to straighten his arms and assume any other when not riding.

The hands and wrists also come in for their share in the general deformity. The hands are usually held at a pronounced angle with the arms, and are obliged to support the entire weight of the upper part of the body.

Bicycle legs are also characteristic of this peculiar specimen. They are usually knock-kneed, with an abnormal development of the calf. The peculiar position of the feet causes him to toe in, producing bicycle toes, similar to pigeon toes.

As a result of indiscriminate riding, scorching and racing, we see a long, strained and nervous-visaged, crooked-necked, round-shouldered, narrow-chested, hump-backed, knock-kneed and pigeon-toed specimen of humanity, whose elbows protrude at the times and whose hands resemble those of Johanna more nearly than those of any normal specimen of the genus homo.

Not only does this specimen disfigure himself, but he is apt to injure his eyesight. French eye specialists have recorded numerous cases of visual disturbances among bicyclers. The most common form of the trouble is found in those who ride at a very rapid pace and climb steep hills.

Riders are usually seized with severe vertigo and a sudden diminution of vision in one or both eyes. When the eyes are examined by an oculist traces of retinal hemorrhage are usually found.

The heart also suffers as a result of scorching and long-distance racing. From over-acting it may become dilated and very much enlarged, causing serious trouble.—J. F. Whitmyer, M. D., in N. Y. World.

Kidney Trouble Cured.

The importance of knowing just what to do when one is afflicted with kidney disease or troubles of a urinary nature, is best answered by the following letter which was recently published in the Poughkeepsie, N. Y., News-Press:

THURSDAY, APRIL 9, 1896

The Port Jervis Union gives many reasons for the Republican defeat in that village, Tuesday, but misses the main one, that the Republicans spent all their money at town meeting and could not raise another boodle for use at the village election.

Our prosperous neighbor, the Port Jervis Gazette, is to be felicitated upon the fact that it added a column to each of its pages just at the right time. The great victory won by the Port Jervis Democrats, Tuesday, called for lots of space for exultant roosters, and the Gazette in its enlarged form was none too large for the details and the whys and wherefore of the redemption of Port Jervis from Republican control.

The unpopular Raines law is the ready excuse assigned for the widespread disaster that overtook Republicans at Tuesday's elections in this State. The Raines law had, however, nothing to do with bringing about unexpected Democratic victories in Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois. It really looks as if the people, finding how great is the difference between Republican promise and fulfillment, were coming to their senses.

Senator Raines' amended ballot law, which is being rushed through the Legislature, is open to the criticism that, like all recent legislation on this subject, its effect will be to make the act of voting needlessly difficult and confusing and will increase the possibility of voters disfranchising themselves in whole or in part by mistakes in marking their ballots. The City Club, of New York, which has given much attention to ballot reform, calls attention to certain glaring inconsistencies in the bill. The directions to voters for preparing their ballots and the directions to election officers for canvassing are distinctly contradictory and are likely to give rise to difficulties for both voters and election officers. It is not likely, however, that objections to the bill or the pointing out of its defects will prevent its passage; Raines has announced his intention to pass it in its present form and what Raines says goes.

Suffocated in Its Mother's Arms.

Mrs. James Crookston, of Wallkill, started for Walden, yesterday, with her three-months-old babe to have its picture taken. When she reached Walden the child was dead, having been wrapped up so closely that it suffocated in her arms. Coroner Perrott held an inquest and a verdict of accidental death was rendered.

A Wreck in the Erie Yard.

The engine and five cars of Conductor Duffy's train were derailed at the east end of the Erie yard, last night. The track bands had taken up a rail, and the train ran into the gap. No one was hurt, and but little damage was done.

Newburgh's Fire Department Election

Newburgh's fire department election was held last night. William Nixon was re elected chief by forty-one majority over Henry Miller, of Highland Engine Co. Andrew Glynn Daniel Long and John Sansbury were elected assistants.

"Slicker than an Eel."

IN THE RAILROAD WORLD.

—Hereafter each train on the Northern Railroad of New Jersey entering the Erie's Jersey City station will be required to pay a terminal charge of $3 Under the old contract the Erie operated the Northern road without any allowance for the use of its terminal facilities.

Pure blood is the safeguard of health. Keep the blood pure with Hood's Sarsaparilla if you would always be well.

Facts Worth Knowing

In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non-irritating. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with douches, snuff, powders or astringents, because they are irritating, do not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who had for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh can inflict testify to radical and permanent cures wrought by Ely's Cream Balm. Your druggist has it.

Cripple

The iron grasp of scrofula has no mercy upon its victims. This demon of the blood is often not satisfied with causing dreadful sores, but racks the body with the pains of rheumatism until Hood's Sarsaparilla cures.

"Nearly four years ago I became afflicted with scrofula and rheumatism.

Made

Running sores broke out on my thighs. Pieces of bone came out and an operation was contemplated. I had rheumatism in my legs, drawn up out of shape. I lost appetite, could not sleep. I was a perfect wreck. I continued to grow worse and finally gave up the doctor's treatment to

THE GIFT TO REV. C. J. PAGE.

The Presentation Made by Mr. Will L. Millspaugh His Letter to Mr. J. W. Canfield

Mr. Jesse W Canfield received, this morning, the following letter from Mr. Will L Millspaugh in which he tells of his presentation to Rev. C J. Page of the gold n wedding gift of $125 sent by the good dominie's Middletown friends:

DETROIT, Mich., April 7, 1896.

Mr. Dear Mr Canfield.

I have just returned from my mission of presenting Mr. and Mrs C. J. Page the token of love and esteem from their Middletown friends.

They had seen by the papers from Middletown what you had been doing, so my coming was not a surprise, which, undoubtedly, was for the best, owing to Mr. Page's feeble condition.

The house was very beautifully decorated with flowers for the reception I was ushered to the front room, and met Mr. and Mrs. Page, where I made the presentation in the presence of his family and friends. Mr. Page was quite overcome, but made a few very kind and loving remarks about his Middletown friends, and said he hoped to be strong enough next fall to attend the display given by our firemen. Then I was given the honor of opening the package, while one of the ladies held a very pretty dish to receive it. I was quite nervous myself by that time, but was well repaid by the happiness displayed around us.

I was quite worried as the package did not reach me until this noon. Unfortunately the reporters had been to see Mr. Page before I arrived, but I have telephoned the Press and Tribune, and shall send you papers, to-morrow.

Thanking you for the honor, I am most sincerely,

WILL L. MILLSPAUGH

P. S.—Thinking it may interest you to know what I said, here it is:

I consider I have been greatly honored in being asked by our good friend, Mr. Canfield, to extend to you the greetings of those who love you and fondly remember you, and wishing many happy returns of the day I tender that token of love and esteem which comes from your many Middletown friends.

THE BACHELORS' EASTER HOP

To Be Made the Great Event of the Social Season

Members of the Bachelor's Social Club, who are making extensive preparations for their Easter Hop, which occurs April 14 h, say that they have a new method by which the Casino floor will be put in better condition than it ever has been before.

This announcement will be read with a great deal of pleasure, as it assures some graceful dancing which is sadly lightful to the large number of spectators who make a practice of attending the Easter Hop, which has always been conceded to be the social event of the season.

WORK OF THE GRAND JURY.

Only Seven Indictments Found One of Them a Raines Law Case,

The Grand Jury in session at Newburgh, concluded its labors last night. There was not as much work as usual for this body and only seven indictments were found.

One was against Chas A Vail, of New Windsor, for criminal assault and one against James Redney, of Goshen, for petit larceny.

The other indictments were against parties not in custody, and among them was one against a Newburgh liquor dealer who violated the Raines liquor law.

A Useful Publication.

Mr. Henry Kahn, representing Wm. Finley & Co., publishers, of Philadelphia, is making a canvass of Middletown for "The Library of Historic Characters and Famous Events," a ten octavo volume work of four hundred pages each, edited by Ainsworth R. Spofford, librarian of Congress at Washington. The work is illustrated with one hundred photogravures of rare historical paintings by the world's greatest artists, and altogether is a very handsome and useful publication. It is sold only by subscription.

The lastest results of pharmaceutical science and the best modern appliances are availed of in compounding Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Hence, though half-a century in existence as a medicine, it is fully abreast of the age in all that goes to make it the standard blood-purifier.

MIDDLETOWN THEIR GRETNA GREEN

A Port Jervis Couple Come to This City to Be Joined in Wedlock's Bonds

Nelson Reeves, who keeps a cigar store in Port Jervis, and Miss Mary Bockover, of that village, came to this city, last evening, and called at the residence of Mr. Macy Swezy, No. 7 Mulberry street. After they had been their a short time, Mr. Reeves surprised Mr. and Mrs. Swezy by saying that they had come here to be married and asked Mr. Swezy if he could get a clergyman to tie the knot. Mr. Swezy was very willing and soon brought Rev. F. A. Heath to the house who quickly made the two fond hearts one.

Although there was no opposition to their marriage, the young couple were very anxious to have it over with before their friends knew anything about it and it is understood that they postponed the marriage twice b cause they had reason to believe that their friends suspected their purpose.

Mr. and Mrs. Reeves returned to Port Jervis last night. They have many friends and acquaintances in this city who wish them long life and much happiness.

FUNERAL OF MRS BOWERS.

A Very Large Attendance—Many Floral Tributes

The funeral of Mrs. Minerva R. Bowers, wife of ex-Alderman J. W. Bowers, was held at the First Baptist Church, this morning, at 10.30, and was very largely attended. The service, conducted by Rev. F A Heath, was very impressive, Mrs. Bowers having selected herself text and hymns which she wished used

The bearers were Messrs. Henry Hopkins, C. Z Taylor, George Miller, Edward Burhans, Stephen Carr and James Miller.

The floral tributes were: pink carnations, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Burhans; callas, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Van Keuran; white carnations, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Wood; wreath, Mr. and Mrs. George Belding; Easter lilies, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Young, of Binghamton; pillow with the word mother from the family; mound of tea roses, Ontario Hose Co.; callas, Mrs. Henry Hopkins, Mrs. H. Funnell and Mrs. J. Eccles; mound of roses from the Ladies' Aid of Society of the Baptist Church

The burial was in the family plot in Hillside Cemetery.

THE STRAW HAT SHOP STRIKE.

All Differences Amicably Adjusted and All the Girls at Work.

The strike of the trimmers at the straw hat works was of short duration, the differences between employers and employed having been amicably adjusted, late yesterday afternoon, and all the girls having returned to work, this morning,

It is understood that the girls return to work on the basis of the proposition made by them, yesterday, and submit to a reduction of two cents a dozen,—half that proposed by Mr. Benson.

Taken to Orange Farm

Mrs. Wm. J. Vanderberg, whose husband was sent to Albany Penitentiary, for six months, on March 30th, for abusing his wife, was yesterday taken to Orange Farm by Poormaster W. H. Wood. RICE'S BIG "1492."

This Most Successful Extravaganza at the Casino Next Week.

Rice's big "1492" will be the notable entertainment to be seen at the Casino, Wednesday, April 15th. It will be remembered that this extravaganza enjoys the distinction of a three years' continuous run in New York, and will be presented here in all its mammoth entirety, including the original Kellanyi living pictures, the great Bessie Bonehill, the wonderful Richard Harlow, accomplished vocalists, agile dancers, ballets, marches, tableaux, a female chorus of perfect physical beauty, an orchestra of soloists, and perfect costumes.

Dr. Darwood's Charge at Irvington.

The church at Irvington, to which Dr Darwood is assigned, is a small one Until 1895, Irvington and Glenville constituted one charge. The membership of the two churches is given in the Conference report of 1894 at forty-eight and the salary at $860 The division of the charge and the assignment of a pastor to Glenville, of course reduces the labors of the Irvington pastor, and undoubtedly diminishes his salary.

WORTH A FORTUNE.

This Dog Possesses Fifty Thousand Dollars in His Own Right.

There's a dog in Denver, Col., at this writing who fell heir to $50,000 and enjoyed the legacy so far as canine enjoyment of such a sum is possible, until ordinary consumption marked him for a victim.

Now there is a skilled surgeon retained at a big fee to attend him; he has a nurse whose sole duty it is to feed him and care for him and administer medicines at the times designated by the surgeon who has the case under consideration. Incidentally the whole family of the dead man has accompanied the dog to the west, where the canine was ordered to be taken for his health.

This particular dog, which is without doubt the richest dog in the world, is a small fox terrier, and he literally fell into his good fortune. He was a waif in the streets of Philadelphia when a wealthy native of the Quaker city named Davis found him and took him home. That was some years ago.

Davis conceived a great fondness for the terrier, and the terrier manifested a great deal of affection for Davis. The poor dog and the rich man got on together famously and became inseparable companions.

When Davis fell ill the dog seemed to realize that the illness was of a serious nature and refused to be comforted. He neither ate nor slept while Davis was sick. Davis was touched by the devotion of his canine friend. And when Davis had died and his will was read it was found that he had left to the dog a legacy of $50,000. No provision was made for the disposition of the legacy in the event of the terrier's death.

Soon after the dog fell heir to the fortune he, too, became ill. Skilled medical men were consulted, and they said the dog was suffering from consumption.

The legatee was treated with all the consideration which would have been accorded a human who had a bank account of $50,000. A trained nurse was engaged to care for the terrier to see that the orders of the dog's physicians should be carried out to the letter. Cod liver oil was administered in prescribed doses and at regular intervals throughout the day and night.

But the condition of the terrier did not improve. He grew worse steadily, and finally the physicians ordered a change of climate. It was suggested that he be taken to Denver. He was taken there in the hope that the change of air might benefit his lungs, says the Denver Republican. At the present time the dog, in common with the family of the dead man, is quartered at the leading fashionable hotel of Denver.

It is an interesting question whether the $50,000 reverts to the family in the event of the dog's death, which is certain, or goes to the state of Pennsylvania.

COMMANDER BRICE.

The Gallant Record of the New United States Fish Commissioner.

Commander John J. Brice, of California, whom President Cleveland has just appointed fish commissioner, is one of the most popular naval men on the Pacific coast. He has been identified with the work of the United States fish commission since 1890. When first ordered to that duty he became intensely interested in the work and soon became very proficient. His appointment as fish commissioner was made at the solicitation of Senator White, of California, who was backed in his recommendation by a large number of persons interested in the fish culture of the coast. Commander Brice entered the volunteer navy in 1861. His first duties were with the United States steamer Freeborn. He was twice promoted for gallant conduct, and in 1868 was transferred to the regular navy. He served in the South Atlantic squadron until 1870, in which year he was transferred to the hydrographic office. After that he served the navy department in many capacities, until 1878, when he was ordered to the navy yard at Mare Island. In 1885 Commander Brice was ordered to the Iroquois, of the Pacific squadron. In 1889 he was stationed at the navy yard in Wasington.

Number of Stars Visible.

To the average eye not more than 5,000 stars are visible; some persons having extraordinarily strong eyes can see about 8,000 stars. Through the Lick telescope and other powerful instruments about 50,000,000 stars are visible.

IN Society women often feel the effect of too much gayety—balls, theatres, and teas in rapid succession find them worn out, or "run-down" by the end of the season. They suffer from nervousness, sleeplessness and irregularities. The smile and good spirits take flight. It is time to accept the help offered in Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It's a medicine which was discovered and used by a prominent physician for many years in all cases of "female complaint" and the nervous disorders which arise from it. The "Prescription" is a powerful uterine tonic and nervine, especially adapted to woman's delicate wants for it regulates and promotes all the natural functions, builds up, invigorates and cures.

Many women suffer from nervous prostration, or exhaustion, owing to congestion or to disorder of the special functions. The waste products should be quickly got rid of, the local source of irritation relieved and the system invigorated with the "Prescription." Do not take the so-called celery compounds, and nervines which only put the nerves to sleep, but get a lasting cure with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

"FEMALE WEAKNESS."

MRS. HOOVER.

MRS. WILLIAM HOOVER, of Bellville, Richland Co., Ohio, writes: "I had been a great sufferer from 'female weakness;' I tried three doctors; they did me no good; I thought I was an invalid forever. But I heard of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and then I wrote to him and he told me just how to take it. I took eight bottles. I now feel entirely well. I could stand on my feet only a short time, and now I do all my work for my family of five."

FOR SALE.

Will Not Perform Miracles But It Will Cure.

DR. MILES' RESTORATIVE NERVINE cures nervous prostration. Not miraculously, but scientifically, by first removing the germs of disease, and then supplying healthy nerve food, increasing the appetite, helping digestion and strengthening the entire system. Desperate cases require prolonged treatment as shown by that of Mrs. M. B. Reed, of Delta, Iowa, who writes: "As the result of a lightning stroke, the physicians said I had a light stroke or paralysis, my limbs would all draw up. I would have throbbings in my chest that seemed unendurable. For three months I could not sleep and for three weeks did not close my eyes. I prayed for sleep, and felt that if relief did not come I would be dead or insane. I took Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and the second night slept two hours and from that time on my health improved; slowly at first, but steadily and surely. I took in all 40 bottles, and I cannot express how grateful I am, for I am now perfectly well, and have taken no medicine for over four months." Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by druggists on guarantee that first bottle benefits or money refunded.

AFRICA'S WHITE RACE.

A Fierce Tribe in the Interior of Whom Little Is Known.

There have always been vague traditions of a white race locked up in the interior, but, when the tales have come to be tested, the white race generally turns out to be merely a tribe of lighter-colored Arabs, keeping all the characteristics of the race and having none of the white man's. But in this race we have something much more correct and precise. Capt. Larymore, at present A. D. C. to Sir Francis Scott, was sent up to Koranza on a mission and stayed a considerable time in the capital. He took advantage of the opportunity to inquire about this comparatively unknown race and its neighbors, and was surprised to find that there was an accepted tradition that there lived an indefinite number of days' marches to the northeast a tribe of white men. Further inquiries elicited the statement that they lived on the skirts of a desert, which was difficult and dangerous to cross. Attempts had been made to avoid this desert by passing through their country, but they were found to be so fierce and so absolutely devoid of fear that the caravans preferred the dangers of the desert to the hostility of the white tribe. Such circumstantial statements induced Capt. Larymore to make stricter inquiries, and at length he found a Mohammedan priest and hadji, a man of great integrity and considerable influence. He had been to Mecca, and it was on his way there and back that he actually saw with his own eyes one of this white tribe.

The man in question was armed only with a bow and arrow, but such is the reputation of fierceness possessed by the race that the caravan did not remain long in his vicinity, but left the place as quickly as possible. Al Hadji saw him distinctly. Capt. Larymore, who, by the way, is a type of the fair Saxon, interrupted the priest in his story and said that the man must have been simply a light-colored Arab. "No," said Al Hadji, "I saw him close at hand, and he had light hair and blue eyes, exactly as you have." This statement and the confirmation it had received by many rumors and tales was one of extreme importance, considering the strict integrity of the man who made it. Consequently, Capt. Larymore took down his testimony in writing. The existence of such a race is firmly believed in by most of the gold coast travelers, and, among others, by Sir Francis Scott. Unfortunately, owing to the fact that the reckoning of the progress of a caravan is done in the most careless way, the spot cannot be located exactly. Al Hadji says it is many days from Koranza, which might mean 100 or 1,000 miles.—London News.

ACTORS ON THE ROAD.

Observant Train Boy Who Has Noted Their Peculiarities.

A train boy on one of the leading railroads thus gives his observations on actors: "One of the most noticeable habits of the 'profession' when they are on the road is the way they seat themselves in a train. The leaders invariably sit by themselves, and the rest of the company follows suit, each according to his own view of his position. And never, except on rare occasions, do they address a word to the members of the company whom they consider lower in the rank. It is very easy for a train boy to get into conversation with a member of a troupe. The train boy is of so little importance, you know, that surely there is no harm in talking to him. And, judging by the stories I have told me, there are more stars on the stage than the theater-going public has any idea of.

"Oh what a difference between a company going out and when you see them straggling back in twos and threes minus their baggage. On the way out each one is bragging about the companies they have been with. 'This one was not up to the standard, but the manager being a personal friend of his or hers, they decided to help him out.' On the way back note the difference. If they talk at all it is rather low, and they wonder if there is any chance for them yet this season. But, as a rule, I rather think they wait around until next season.

"On the road they spend a good deal of their time in sleeping, and it is amazing the way an old hand at one-night stands can curl himself up in a seat. One often hears people who know nothing at all of theatrical life say it is one of the easiest professions there is. Perhaps it is in the large cities, but there is a wonderful difference in a company starting out and a company returning from six or eight weeks of one-night stands. That tired look they come back with is not there when they start out.

"But what surprises one most is the jealousy existing among the various members of a company. Though, if one considers a moment, it is not surprising at all. Each is so assured of his own ability and his own superiority over the rest that there is bound to be a clash. This jealousy is more noticeable among the women, though the men have it to a lesser extent. The men are the most inveterate poker players I have ever seen. But, though poker is their chief amusement, you seldom see them playing during the middle of the week, as they start playing as soon as they are paid, and usually lose all they care to lose by Monday morning. They are nearly always cheerful, their bump of self-esteem carrying them through trials that would dishearten an ordinary mortal." — Philadelphia Times.

William's Little Oaks.

The kaiser celebrated his 37th birthday a short time ago, and a Berlin florist sent him 37 tiny oak trees. William II. was delighted. The 37 little oaklings were given to the head gardener, and in the spring they will be transferred to one of the imperial gardens, while the emperor will personally superintend their grouping. And the far-seeing florist now displays the royal arms above his door.—Detroit Free Press.

A MARTYR
—TO—INDIGESTION

Cured by Using

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Words of Comfort to All who Suffer from Dyspepsia.

"For years, I was a martyr to indigestion, and had about given up all hope of ever finding relief, as the complaint only seemed to grow worse instead of better, under ordinary treatment. At last, I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and I hereby testify that after using only three bottles, I was cured. I can, therefore, confidently recommend this medicine to all similarly afflicted."—FRANKLIN BECK, Avoca, Ia.

"I am personally acquainted with Mr. Beck and believe any statement he may make to be true."—W. J. MAXWELL, Druggist and Pharmacist, Avoca, Ia.

"I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla for general debility and, as a blood-purifier, find it does exactly as is claimed for it."—S. J. ADAMS, Ezzell, Texas.

A Baby's Life Saved.

ADDISON, N. Y., April 8, 1894.—Hand Medicine Co.:—"I feel it my duty to write you in regard to my little daughter's sickness from teething and indigestion. She is seven months old. Two of the best physicians gave her up. One bottle of Dr. Hand's Teething Lotion relieved her so much that we tried Dr. Hand's Colic Cure also, and at once saw a change for the better. These remedies saved my baby's life.—Mrs. Wellington Brown." Dr. Hand's Colic Cure and Dr. Hand's Teething Lotion sold by all druggists, 25c.

How to be Handsome.

It is a mistake to suppose that the only way to be good looking is to be born so. Good health has more to do with good looks than anything else. Such diseases as constipation, dyspepsia, liver complaints, rheumatism, nervous disorders, &c., not only shorten life, but spoil tempers and "looks." Bacon's Celery King for the nerves cures these troubles. John J. Chambers sells it and will give a sample package free. 8

Chronic Rheumatism Cured.

Dr. H. B. Hettinger, Indianapolis, Ind., says: "For several months after spraining my ankle I was badly afflicted with Rheumatism. I finally tried Detchon's 'Mystic Cure' for Rheumatism, and in 4 days could walk without my cane; two bottles cured me sound and well. I take great pleasure in recommending the 'Mystic Cure' to all who are afflicted with Rheumatism. Sold by J. E. Mills, druggist, Middletown, N. Y.

Where Did I Get This Dreadful Cough?

No matter; the great question is, How shall I get rid of it? Use THE PINEOLA BALSAM, a soothing combination of the remedies nature has put in the pine and other balsamic trees. It cures the inflammation and tickling in the throat and if taken in time will prevent the spread of the disease to the lungs. Ely's Pineola Balsam is strongly recommended in cases of asthma. Twenty-five cents is the price. Tell the neighbors about it.

A little ill, then a little pill. The ill is gone the pill has won. DeWitt's Little Early Risers the little pills that cure great ills. W. D. Olney.

A Common Danger.

If you have ever had a cold which you permitted to "wear away" it may interest you to know it was a dangerous proceeding. Every cold and cough which is neglected paves the way for consumption, bronchitis, asthma or catarrh. Otto's Cure, the famous German throat and lung remedy, will cure any cough or cold and save you from consumption. Call on J. J. THE TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

THE THIRD DAY OF THE SESSION A MOST INTERESTING ONE.

Prof. Hendrick Tells How Reading should be Taught—A Lesson in Punctuation — The school Readers of To day Not as Good as Those of Years Ago—Prof. Latimer of New Paltz on the How and Why of Arithmetic.

The opening exercises, yesterday, consisted of singing and the reading of the 90th Psalm, followed by the Lord's prayer.

Prof. Hendrick divided reading into two parts, oral and silent. Oral reading is the most important. It is valuable as voice culture and as a means of general culture. He then proceeded with the scientific part of the subject, putting in very attractive form the elements of good reading, giving excellent definitions and illustrations.

A recess of fifteen minutes was taken, after which the roll was called in an entirely new way for this institute. The teachers were asked to respond to the number of the districts in which they teach. The attendance for the day was 100 per cent. which made the officers happy.

Miss Himes drew a house on the blackboard and asked the teachers to prove the correctness of the definitions that were given the previous day. Several of the teachers were called upon to go to the board and explain to Miss Himes the reasons for their answers. This period was very interesting and instructive because it was in line with what teachers are expected to pass in at the examinations.

The third period of the morning session was taken up by reading, the conductor, who resumed the subject, referring particularly to inflection and emphasis.

A number of teachers were called upon to illustrate the rising and falling circumflex accent, some giving it correctly and others showing a lack of knowledge of this part of reading.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

After singing the "Star Spangled Banner," the roll was called.

A selection was then written on the board and Mr. Moulton called upon to put in the proper punctuation marks.

Prof. Hendrick called for criticisms on Mr. Moulton's work, which showed the fact that a difference of opinion existed as to the right marks. Several selections were read by the conductor showing what a great difference a little comma makes.

Prof. Hendrick said there is usually criticism of pronunciation, articulation, &c., but not enough of tone, emphasis and inflection. When one realizes what can be accomplished with the voice, it is a marvel, and yet how few people try to cultivate a pleasant voice or tone.

The school readers used, to day, are not as good as those in use years ago. Those who make readers are beginning to realize this, and to bring back the old standbys that used to do us so much good. It is very strange that we are just beginning to realize that the "old fogies" of years ago did know something about this subject of reading.

The conductor gave the names of several publishers who embody these ideas. It is a false idea to say that children should never read anything that is not understood. How many understand fully the 23rd Psalm? And because we do not grasp the full meaning, is that any reason why we should not read it at all? We can readily see how wrong it is to suppose a child must not read only what can be understood. Henry Ward Beecher stated that a man must be 50 years old before he can understand this Psalm.

After recess the conductor introduced Professor Latimer, of the New Paltz Normal school. The subject upon which Prof. Latimer spoke was arithmetic, taking for his text the why and how. Primary pupils should be taught the how, and not be troubled with the why, for that will naturally develop itself in time, when children begin to want to know why it is so. Pupils of the highest grades should know the why. If children want to know why, the teacher should give them a clear cut statement, and not put them off. Primary pupils do not like arithmetic, because so much "development" in this work is given, which tires the child out.

The good of plenty of practice was very aptly illustrated on the board, closing one of the interesting periods of the day.

Among prominent visitors we recognized ex-Commissioner Ira L. Case, who is always a welcome visitor at the institutes, and Commissioner Rivenburg, of the First District, who was well received. It is expected that the State Superintendent will be here during the week.

PUBLIC VOICE.

An Alumni Association for Old Wallkill."

EDITORS ARGUS:—It has been the custom of the senior classes of Wallkill Academy, since the class of '92 graduated, to hold an annual alumni banquet, and thus to renew old acquaintances and recall the good times that we all had at old Wallkill. This plan has gone on now for three years and has met with great success.

Last year the classes of '92 to '95 held their banquet at Midway Park and it was then that the idea of a real alumni association was brought to light. At that banquet an alumni association was formed, officers were elected and a constitution was adopted. This constitution called for an alumni banquet to be held during the week following the regular commencement exercises. The officers of the association are putting forth every effort to make our reunion a great success, and it lies with the old alumni to make our attempt a successful one.

The plan now on foot is to have our alumni reunion on the Monday after the regular commencement exercises. This meeting will be held in the old Academy building, provided it is then standing and capable of being occupied for a short time. At this meeting we expect to have addresses from various prominent alumni, our city officials and members of our Board of Education. On the evening of this day we will hold our alumni banquet in some appropriate place. Here we will also enjoy ourselves and establish on a firm basis the alumni association of old Wallkill.

In a short time invitations will be sent to every alumni whose address can be obtained. These invitations will give concisely the plan of the reunion, the price of each plate at the banquet and the amount of the initiation fee, which will be but a trifle.

Whether our attempt to give Middletown a strong alumni association meets with success or not depends entirely on the alumni themselves. There is no reason why old Wallkill should not boast of a strong alumni association, and we hope that our plan may meet with universal acceptance and success.

Cheap Buckwheat Flour—Business Notes—Barney Laraway's Prayer.

Correspondence ARGUS and MERCURY.

—M. W. Dodge is selling buckwheat flour at two dollars per hundred. It is is the cheapest it has been in this place in years.

—David Curry, who has been clerking in the store of D. W. Dodge for the past four years, will move to Fallsburgh about May 1st, and go into the insurance business.

—Mrs. Cecilia Hawkins has opened a millinery store in the Davidson building, at Rockland.

—Sheriff Reed, who has been working in the store of M. W Dodge, this winter, will soon go to work at the carpenter business.

—Barney Laraway, who came to Roscoe about two months ago and started a barber shop, is a firm believer in the efficacy of prayer. For a time prosperity smiled upon him, and Barney's heart was made glad thereby. But suddenly the wheel of fortune turned, and the barber's iron broke out among his customers, and the greater part of them left him. Barney's heart was full of sadness, and he says he went to the Lord in prayer, and continued in prayer for three days without ceasing, asking the Lord what he should do. And he says the Lord looked down upon him with much favor and answered his petitions, and told him to tarry there no more, but to depart from the place where he abode and seek another abiding place and sell that which he had. And suddenly there appeared to Barney a man by the name of Walker, from a far off country, and bought that which Barney had But the mantle of Barney's faith did not fall upon Walker, as to the barber business at Roscoe, being a success. Mr. Walker a day or two ago, called at his boarding place and settled his board bill and left the shop key, and left for parts unknown. Here endeth the reading of this chapter.

At the Teachers' Institute Beginning of the Conference Year — Social — Funeral of Miss Waller — The New Pastor's Coming.

Correspondence ARGUS and MERCURY.

—A large number of teachers took the Mountain Express for Middletown, at this station, Monday morning From this village they were: Mr. and Mrs Kaufman, Mr. Charles Harding, Miss Hattie B. Park, Miss Hattie B Beyea.

—Interesting services were held in the M. E Church Easter morning. It was also the beginning of the Conference year. Prayers were offered by Mr. Cortright and Rev. Mr. Fitzgerald for continued blessing upon the work of the pastor, who has been returned.

—Don't forget the social at the home of Charles Loomis, Friday evening, April 10th It is needless to say that all friends are most cordially invited.

—The funeral of Mrs Waller was held, Sunday. The burial was in the cemetery of the Church of the Holy Name.

—The family of Rev Mr. Dixon will be here a week sooner than at first expected. This will call for an extra effort on the part of the ladies that the intended work at the parsonage may be completed.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
